MEMORANDUM FOR MR. DOUGLAS

Re: JEPHATH S. ROGERS,
Applicant - Special Agent.

I was interviewed by Jephtha Rogers with reference to the fictitious applicant Joe Lynch.

Mr. Rogers' approach was fair. He conducted the interview without any signs of nervousness or being ill at ease, and the same was conducted in a businesslike manner. He presents a good appearance, and it is believed that with adequate training he will develop into a better than average Agent. Favorable recommendation is hereby made.

Very truly yours,

E. K. THOMPSON,
Special Agent.

March 7, 1937

At your request I have interviewed Mr. Ed Thompson concerning Joe Lynch, applicant for appointment in Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. Thompson has known Joe Lynch since 1922. He attended College and Law School with Lynch for six years. Lynch made very good grades while in college, but in Law School, due to the fact that he was working to pay his way, his grades were not as good as before. This was the sole reason for his failure to continue his high grades.

Lynch did not drink, except a drink or two socially. Thompson did not know of any time when Lynch had been drunk.

Lynch's morals were very clean. He had never been in any trouble so far as Mr. Thompson knew.

Lynch had three brothers, no sisters.

One brother was chief petty officer in the navy; another was employed by the U. S. Govt as Customs Inspector, New Orleans, La; the third was a newspaper reporter.

Respectfully,

Telegram from the Bureau March 9, 1937

DETAILS

The Bureau advised in telegram of reference that Applicant was employed by M E Gilloiz Construction Company, Monett, Missouri, as a laborer from July to September in 1933

Special Agent C J. Endres contacted Raymond Hogan, Clerk in the office of the Gilloiz Construction Company, Monett, Missouri. Mr Hogan searched the pay roll records and then later telephonically advised Special Agent Endres that he was unable to locate his record of Applicant by name

Mr Hogan stated that the pay roll records reflected other Rogers on the pay roll during the period from July to September, 1933, but none with the name or initials of Applicant. Mr Hogan further advised Agent Endres that possibly the employment record could be located if the name of the Superintendent under whom Applicant worked were known

Hogan further stated that the Proprietor of the Construction Company, M E Gilloiz, was out of the city, that the date of his return was unknown, but that he, Hogan, did not believe that Mr Gilloiz would personally know Applicant, inasmuch as during the period from July to September 1933, Gilloiz had ten or twelve jobs going, and that Mr Gilloiz was not personally acquainted with all the employees

MEMORANDUM

Mr. Chapmon Fletcher,
Special Agent in Charge.

Re: JEPHTHA ROGERS, SA Applicant.

Dear Sir

This is to advise that while I am not closely acquainted with Jeptha Rogers, I am in a position to know of his reputation at the University of Arkansas. He had the reputation of being a good student, well-liked by everyone, and one of the outstanding officers in the R. O. T. C. unit.

I roomed with applicant's younger brother, Tom Dan Rogers, at the Kappa Alpha House during the spring semester 1935 and the fall semester 1935. During this time I became acquainted with Tom Dan's family, Mrs. Rogers, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jorgenson, his sister and brother-in-law. Mrs. Rogers was held in high regard by the people of Fayetteville, and was particularly well-liked and respected by the boys at the house. Mrs. Jorgenson was employed at the Buildings and Grounds office of the University and was well thought of there. Tom Dan Rogers majored in geology and was assistant laboratory instructor during his senior year. He was an officer in the R. O. T. C. unit, and is one of the finest young men of my acquaintance. He is presently employed at the Geology Department of the State of Arkansas.

The family is one of the oldest in Paris, Arkansas, and is one of the finest groups it has ever been my pleasure to know.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ A. T. Bowen

Re: Injury in gymnasium.

Special Agent-Trainee J. S. Rogers received an injury while the class was having practical instructions, on a counter for a rear strangle hold, on Wednesday, March 7, 1937.

I think the injury is a slight bruise of the muscle or bone, and occurred while Rogers, as a subject, was thrown to the mat, falling accidentally on his right buttock. The instructions were supervised and scientific. The entire class was executing movements by numbers.

I have allowed Rogers to use the infra-red lamp in conjunction with a rubbing salve.

Respectfully

M. E. Goudge

STATEMENT OF WITNESSES

[The statement of witness should tell just what the witness saw personally, or, if he did not see the injury occur, just what he knows about it and when and by whom the information was given him.]

On April 7, 1937 between 4:00 and 5:00 O'clock P.M. the training school for new Special Agents, of which J. Edgar Hoover and Lane were in the gymnasium practicing jiu-jitsu. In doing this we were instructed to take certain holds on other Agents and throw them lightly on our shoulders to the mat. On one occasion I threw Hoover on my shoulder to the mat and he landed on his hip which was bruised as a result. The injury was not serious and is not now considered serious. It apparently resulted in a minor bruise which was painful at the time to Hoover.

He is very active physically, is speedy; he needs to show some greater patience in handling details; he is intelligent, and has not really studied quite as hard as some in the class. Memo for the Director

July 3, 1937.

This Special Agent was attentive during his course of training; he possesses good judgment, is forceful, shows initiative, force and industry. He seems to be a dependable type of employee who has a proper attitude toward the Bureau and its work. He is rather a good mixer. He is not inclined to be the studious type and this is reflected in the fact that he does not give satisfactorily close attention to details; and consequently, he will probably not be as thorough as he should in his investigations during the early stages of his practical training work. He showed some tendency toward temperament and impatience at petty tasks, but this was not a serious fault nor was it a frequent occurrence. He is rather nervously energetic.

I believe this agent has entirely satisfactory prospects for developing into a good Special Agent.

Respectfully,

H. H. Hogg.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CLEGG

RE: NATIONAL MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT ACT -
Interview by Special Agent Jephtha S.
Rogers.

Special Agent Rogers entered my office in a businesslike manner and introduced himself by exhibiting his commission card. He was a little abrupt in starting out the interview by stating that he came to talk about the identification of an automobile.

He covered all the necessary information desired in interviewing the owner of a stolen automobile, but the order in which he obtained this information was not logical as he inquired as to identifying marks near the first of the interview and did not get a general description of the car until the last thing, having apparently overlooked this information.

He referred constantly to an outline or notes which he had prepared prior to coming into the office.

When informed that the certificate of title and registration papers had been turned over to the insurance company, he suggested that I have these papers returned so that I could have them in the event I was called upon to testify and he appeared completely at a loss when I remarked that I was not interested in having these papers returned to me as I was only interested in having the insurance company return the automobile or make a cash settlement with me for same. As to the report submitted by Agent Rogers, the synopsis of the facts does not indicate the description of the automobile nor the fact that I could personally identify this automobile by motor number. He also used in the synopsis of facts the phrase "informed Agent." He also stated in the synopsis of facts that the owner did not know any facts surrounding the theft and the details reflect the circumstances surrounding the theft. The undeveloped leads set out in this report are the logical leads and the grade on both the interview and the report is FAIR.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir:

Re: THIRTY DAY EFFICIENCY REPORT
SPECIAL AGENT JEPHTHA S. ROGERS

Special Agent JEPHTHA S. ROGERS reported for duty in the San Francisco Office on July 3, 1937, directly from training school for new Agents.

A previous special efficiency report has not been rendered on Agent ROGERS, due to the fact that during the first month I was absent from the office for a considerable portion of the time, and therefore was unable to observe a great deal of his work.

This Agent has a fair personality, and presents a fair appearance, although he is slightly "farmerish", and does not particularly instill a great amount of confidence, so far as impressions are concerned.

Since his arrival in the San Francisco District, Agent ROGERS has handled a various number of elementary leads and different classification of cases, including National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, White Slave Traffic Act, Impersonation, Fraud Against the Government, and War Risk Insurance cases, all of which he has handled with fair dispatch.

He is a sincere and willing worker, and apparently ambitious, and appears to have an average amount of native intelligence.

Agent ROGERS is qualified in handling fire-arms, as well as in driving an automobile, although, on one occasion, after riding with him, I had to caution him against driving too fast within the corporate city limits. He is capable of submitting acceptable rough draft reports. He has had no opportunity to testify.
